Community Foundations are one of the fastest growing philanthropic movements globally.

Today there are over 1,800 community foundations...

1 INTRODUCTION

Jersey Community Foundation (JCF) was established in 2020 in the midst of the Covid-19 pandemic. Our work was launched with an initial £2 million donation awarded by the Government of Jersey from Dormant Bank Accounts in Jersey – accounts where contact has been lost with the customer after 15 years. Since then, corporate and individual donors have given kindly and generously to the Foundation in order to ensure their money reaches those most in need in Jersey without the need to set up their own charitable structure. The Foundation also benefits from 50% of Lottery Funding and bequests, such as the AA Rayner and Greville Bathe Funds, set-up to help vulnerable Islanders struggling with health and financial issues.

Following Covid-19, and now during the cost-of-living crisis, the Foundation is proving to be crucial in helping the Third and voluntary sectors adapt and thrive during challenging times by providing much-needed funding.

We are excited to share our 2022 Annual Review with you. The breadth and scope of these incredible projects stand testament to the amount of good will, energy, creativity and aptitude that lives within our community. We are proud to have funded each and every one and to have been part of the positive impact they are making in our Island community.

...in over 50 countries across the globe.

OUR VISION

A message from Anna Terry, Chief Executive Officer, Jersey Community Foundation

To connect people who care with causes that matter.

Our funding over the course of 2022 has been diverse and far-reaching, both in its subject matter and in the growing range of funding opportunities available. Over the course of the year, we distributed nearly £2.2 million supporting 79 organisations across the Island, bringing the total funds we have distributed to date to almost £4 million.

Our funding has reached smaller new community initiatives such as 'Laugh, Move and Groove', a club that runs inclusive exercise classes for elderly and disabled Islanders; and Harbour Gallery's 'Never Too Old Club', where over-60s can meet for tea and cake and try their hand at various arts and crafts; to organisations such as St Andrew's Church, who have been supporting the community for over 50 years and who were awarded £50,000 to improve their facilities, so they could better meet the needs and range of people who use their services.

2022 was the year of Her Late Majesty Queen Elizabeth II's Diamond Jubilee, which brought the community together in celebration. We were proud to have facilitated so many of the events across the Island during June of that year that many will remember as a time of great community spirit and celebration.

We saw demands on charities designed to support the community increase and they continue to do so amid the cost-of-living crisis. Charities that work within areas of immediate poverty relief, such as food banks, Community Savings and Salvation Army have reported a doubling of demand over the last two to three years. We distributed over £60,000 to food banks and lifeline charities in response to growing demands during the cost-of-living crisis and post-Covid recovery.

Central to JCF's ethos is our trust in the charitable sector to serve the community effectively and understand that those with first-hand experience can identify where needs lie. It has been important to work with 'front line' volunteers, community leaders and charity employees to better understand the sector we serve. We are continually growing our network, aware of the Island's 450 registered charities as well as countless other not-for-profit organisations and voluntary and community groups that stand to gain from future funding.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank our voluntary specialist advisers and voluntary Board of Directors. We rely heavily on them to give up their time and expertise to review grant applications and provide advice on key areas of need. This was true in 2022 and will continue to be a central part of our ethos moving forward. Our Local Needs Assessment was a huge part of our work in 2022. The report highlights the significant and important role that the Third Sector plays in Jersey in improving the lives and outcomes for Islanders and in responding to the needs of the Island as a whole. It is more important than ever that the funds we distribute target the areas of greatest need in the Island and deliver maximum impact.

Our Local Needs Assessment gives us another cornerstone for building the foundations for effective community giving. This data-driven approach, combined with extensive stakeholder involvement, enables us to pinpoint areas of vulnerability and address them through our funding efforts in 2023 and beyond.

UNDERSTANDING LOCAL NEED

In 2022, we commissioned a comprehensive Island wide needs analysis, which was conducted by PwC. This Needs Assessment research will form the basis for a strong, evidence-based approach for our future grant giving activity.

The full report is available on our website, scan here to view.

The report focuses on seven social themes, appraising, and evaluating each of them to identify how well Jersey performs internationally, and to understand Jersey's most pressing needs. The role of the charitable sector is centrally placed among the findings, outlining spending, focus, efficacy and identifying key challenges within each theme. Over 30 stakeholders were interviewed and given the opportunity to feedback into the near-100-page report.

This Local Needs Assessment will help inform how JCF prioritises its limited resources, providing the backbone for our planned funding strategy and the performance framework that will sit around it.

By measuring these social themes, we will be able to better inform donors of issues and opportunities in Jersey, helping to set priorities.

JCF's vision is to connect people who care with causes that matter. This vision is underpinned by our mission to be a trusted and effective grant giver; to promote philanthropy and support donors with their giving; and to research and understand local needs.

To do this well, it is increasingly important to take a structured and open approach to providing grants and to monitoring their impact.

The report provides tangible, relevant, recent data for us to bring to potential donors or corporates who may be looking to redress the issues our Island faces. This is key to our 2023 strategy as we are seeing an increasing number of individuals approach us to set-up both individual and corporate donor advised funds (DAFS).

The understanding of local needs, provided by this report, is needed now more than ever before as Jersey enters what is likely to be a prolonged period of socio-economic difficulties.

Amount: £15,000

Project: Jersey Research Repository

A pioneering and innovative digital project in Jersey that will bring all research related to Jersey online into one 'open access' website called the 'Jersey Research Repository'.

Aim

There are huge gaps in our research, data and knowledge about Jersey. We do not have the dedicated funding or resources that exist in places like the European Union, United Kingdom and United States of America. However, there is a significant expanse of Jersey-related research that does exist, and it is often a case of knowing where to find it and who to ask for it. Much still exists offline in journals still to be digitised, in formats that are often inaccessible to a layperson. This is where the new 'Jersey Research Repository' will step in, scheduled to launch in 2023. The Research Repository will be an easy-to-navigate website that will house Jersey-related research. As an 'open access' website, anyone will be able to use the site for free.

SCIENCE FUND CASE STUDY SANGAN ISLAND CONSERVATION LTD

Amount: £20,000

Project: Ecology of Plecotus Austriacus

The Grey Long-Eared Project is a targeted at study into the ecology and phenology of Plecotus Austriacus on both Jersey and the other Channel Islands.

The grant funding will enable the organisation to utilise existing specialist skills as well as gaining new ones. The organisation will aim to pass on these skills via the provision of specialist training courses to the local ecologist sector, as well as lectures to the wider community on bats through local charities such as the Société Jersiaise.

Amount: £3,672

Project: Mini golf and indoor petanque for people with dementia and their carers

Encourage more men with dementia and their carers to benefit from support through weekly tailored mini golf and indoor petanque sessions.

Impact

People living with dementia are at a greatly increased risk of hospital admission due to falls. Exercise and mobility have been shown to reduce the risk of falls by improving strength and balance, as well as slowing down cognitive decline, which helps people to live well for longer at home. In addition, social interaction and stimulation positively impacts mood, self-esteem and feelings of connectedness, reducing feelings of isolation and low confidence.

CASE STUDY: WETWHEELS JERSEY

Amount: £6,000

Project: Giving care home residents the 'Wetwheels experience'

Coordinating 28 boating trips for care home residents to access the sea in a safe, stimulating and rewarding way on board specially built and fully accessible powerboats.

Impact

Blue Mind Science shows marked cognitive, emotional and physical health and wellbeing benefits from being by the water. Just the sight and sound of water can induce a flow of neurochemicals that increases blood flow to the brain and heart, promoting relaxation and wellbeing. In addition, giving passengers the chance to take the helm and control of the vessel enhances their confidence and gives them a feeling of accomplishment, especially as it may have been years since they gave up driving.

3 Becoming a Donor

Jersey Community Foundation works closely with successful individuals and companies that wish to achieve high impact philanthropic outcomes without the need to set up their own charitable infrastructure. We do this through Donor Advised Funds or Themed Funds that nest within our infrastructure, allowing donors all of the benefits of our expertise, systems and professionalism without compromising on oversight and control.

Donor Advised Funds

We approach all Donor Advised Funds as partnerships between us and the donor. We work closely with the donors during the establishment, management and evaluation phases of the Funds over the long term. Recognising that every donor is unique, donors have the flexibility to exercise as much or as little influence over this process as they wish.

Themed Funds

Themed funds are an alternative option to Donor Advised Funds, supported by one-off or regular gifts from several donors who share a common interest, such as Sport, Mental Health, The Arts or The Environment.

Donors choose to support Themed Funds because they trust the Foundation's expertise in knowing where the funds will have the greatest impact. Collectively, these funds allow the Foundation to respond to current community needs and to emerging opportunities to for projects, programmes and services across a broad range of charitable organisations.

If you are interested in establishing a fund with us, get in touch with our CEO, Anna Terry, at anna@jerseycommunityfoundation.org. Anna and our team will work closely with you to create a personalised giving plan that aligns with your values and goals.

COMMUNITY FOUNDATIONS

For more than a century, Community Foundations have been making a significant impact globally, having originated in Ohio, USA, in 1914.

They have become one of the most rapidly growing philanthropic movements worldwide.

Over time, Community Foundations develop an expert understanding of the issues in their locality and how best to deliver funding to tackle them.

This is achieved through various means, including:

- Encouraging philanthropy and local giving
- Researching and understanding local need
- Strengthening the local voluntary and community sector
- Facilitating the pooling of community resources

Community Foundations offer a range of grant-making programs funded by a diverse range of sources, including donations from individuals, families and businesses, as well as grants from local authorities and the government.

UK COMMUNITY FOUNDATIONS

The Foundation is a proud overseas member of the UK Community Foundation network, which consists of 47 Community Foundations, united by their shared goal of improving the lives of local people and communities.

10 THINGS THAT SET UK COMMUNITY FOUNDATIONS' MEMBERS APART FROM THE CROWD:

1. They give right at the heart of their communities.
2. They address the widest possible range of issues.
3. They have an in-depth understanding of their local areas, what the priority needs are and how best to address them.
4. They carry out extensive local research.
5. They're able to advise donors on how to fund local causes most efficiently and effectively.
6. As endowed charities they build a sustainable source of funding from and for their local communities.
7. Community foundations support and fund local projects and organisations at the grassroots - they don't have to be big, registered charities.
8. The causes they fund are as diverse as the communities they engage with.
9. They are community convenors and leaders, able to harness and influence local resources to achieve positive community impact.
10. They are able to bring disparate people and agencies around the table to achieve meaningful social change.
